

Russo offices to remain open

SARINA Russo will keep her jobseeker offices in Brisbane open despite losing a Job Network contract.

Despite speculation that offices at Annerley, Upper Mt Gravatt, Inala, Wynnum, Nerang, Biggera Waters, Palm Beach, Capalaba, Stones Corner, Caboolture and Bundaberg would close, Ms Russo announced last week that they would all remain open.

Contracts for the Sarina Russo Job Access offices in South-East Queensland were not renewed by the Federal Government.

Ms Russo also said she had decided to keep the overlooked offices open.

“They will continue to be local leaders in education, training and recruitment,” she said. “There is absolutely no way we were going to give up the wonderful intellectual property of our loyal staff.”
