

Who wants free ground coffee?

BARISTA Glen Morris is taking his commitment to fair trade coffee seriously.

The passionate brewer is giving away his perfectly ground coffee, made from flawlessly roasted beans, on Monday to usher in a new espresso experience in Brisbane.

After working in some of Brisbane's most popular cafes, Morris will serve quality coffee from his own outfit, Glen's Espresso, from in front of the Sarina Russo building.

"I love being part of the social hub that gathers around any good coffee shop," Glen said.

"Creating beautiful coffee is something I genuinely take great pleasure and pride in.

"I also believe in working with people who love coffee as much as I do. Nothing ruins a coffee like an unhappy Barista."

In keeping with Morris' belief that a coffee should foster a positive atmosphere and enrich the lives of all involved — customers, staff and suppliers — Glen's Espresso blend uses only fair-trade organic coffee beans, ensuring no farmers are harmed its making.
